

RED CROSS WORKERS ANXIOUS TO HAVE YOU JOIN; GET BUSY

Have you joined the Red Cross? Join today and bring the men—they make their house-to-house campaign. It will only cost you $1 for membership. Red Cross card in your wallet will not have to stop at your door so the Canteen workers, when home, thus giving them time to visit a home where none of the members have enrolled as members.

The Red Cross drive for annual memberships was started last week and is to continue all this week and probably part of next, the exact time for the close of the campaign not being set on account of the influenza situation which has kept a number of the volunteer solicitors confined to their houses.

The Red Cross is still doing a great work and a visit to the office in Room 74, First Nation 1 Bank building, will easily convince one that the Greatest Mother of All is still at her work, reaching out here and there, all over the city and country, lending a helping hand where most needed. It is a most worthy act when you make your unusual contribution to this cause.

Don't delay in getting on the membership role. Send your dollar to the Red Cross office and receive your Red Cross lapel button as a receipt.

Southern Mothers Have Found a Way to Treat Children's Croup and Colds Without Internal Dosing

ALL mothers everywhere know that children's stomachs are delicate and their digestions easily disturbed, and therefore they should be given as little internal dosing as possible. Yet croup and colds come often and certainly cannot be neglected.

A North Carolina Druggist Solves the Problem

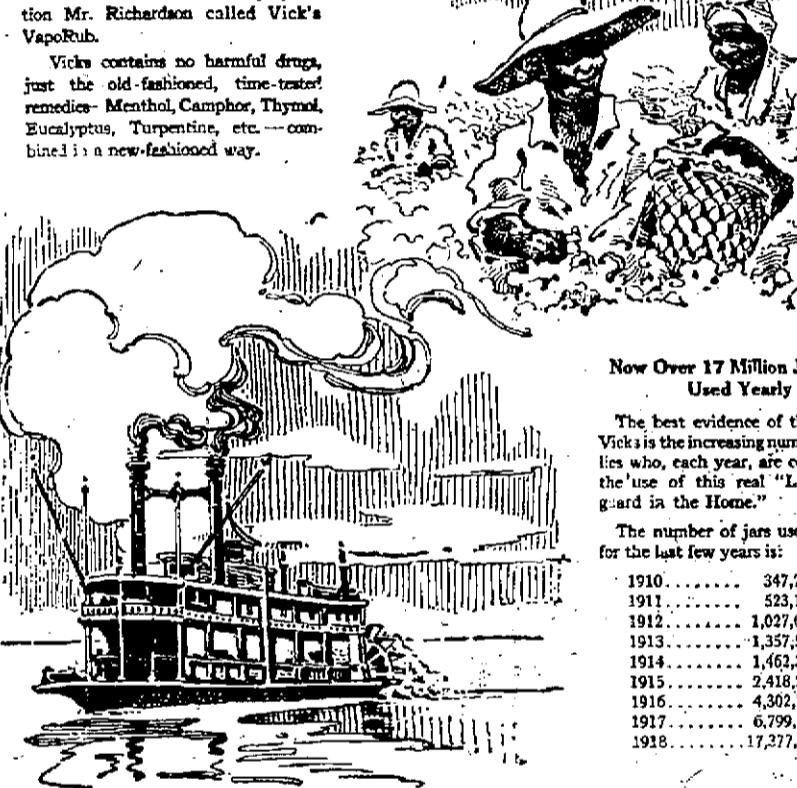

Thanks to Lumsford Richardson, a druggist in Greensboro, N. C., this problem has been solved, and Southern mothers have been given a method of treating cold troubles externally. Mr. Richardson discovered a salve that would vaporize by the body heat when applied over throat and chest. These vapors, inhaled with each breath, carried the medication through the air passages to the lungs, at the same time the salve was absorbed thru and stimulated the skin, attracting the blood to the surface and thus aiding the vapors inhaled to relieve the trouble. This preparation Mr. Richardson called Vick's Vaporub.

Vicks contains no harmful drugs, just the old-fashioned, time-tested remedies—Menthol, Camphor, Thymol, Eucalyptus, Turpentine, etc.—combined in a new-fashioned way.

The Use of Vicks Has Steadily Increased

Starting with the customers of Mr. Richardson's retail drugstore, the sale of this external treatment has grown, county by county, state by state, until now Vicks can be found in almost any drug store in all sections of the United States.

Mothers who once use Vicks always keep a bottle on hand thereafter. It is so easily applied, so quick in its effects, and, best of all, can be used as often and as freely as desired, without fear of harmful results.

Now Over 17 Million Jars Are Used Yearly

The best evidence of the value of Vicks is the increasing number of families who, each year, are converted to the use of this real “Little Bodyguard in the Home.”

The number of jars used annually for the last few years is:

1910	347,748 Jars
1911	523,152 Jars
1912	1,027,058 Jars
1913	1,357,590 Jars
1914	1,461,330 Jars
1915	2,418,213 Jars
1916	4,302,764 Jars
1917	6,799,511 Jars
1918	17,277,400 Jars

DIRECTIONS FOR THE USE OF VICKS

Vicks Important—For these troubles a large part of the value of Vicks lies in its vaporizing qualities. So whenever Vicks is applied over the throat and chest, care should be taken to leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel, so that the vapors arising may be freely inhaled.

Hot Wet Cloths—In cases of deep chest colds, severe throat or chest pneumonia, hot, wet towels should be used over the throat and chest to open the pores of the skin before applying Vicks.

For Head Colds, Asthma, Catarach, Hay Fever—Vicks can be melted in a spoon and the vapors inhaled, or a little should be applied up the nostrils and snuffed up the head.

For Spasmodic Cough, Children's Colds—Rub Vicks over the throat and chest until the difficult breathing is relieved. Then spread on thickly and cover with a hot flannel cloth. An application at bed time usually prevents a slight attack of cough.

Vicks is particularly recommended for children's colds since it is especially applied, and can, therefore, be used often and freely without disturbing the young child's delicate digestion.

For Deep Chest Colds, Sore Throat, Tracheitis, Bronchitis, Coughs—or any affection of the respiratory organs where there is tightness or soreness, Vicks should be applied over the throat and chest—if necessary, first using hot wet cloths—and rubbed in well until the skin is red; then spread on thickly and covered with one or two thicknesses of hot flannel cloth. If the cough is annoying, a small piece the size of a pea can be swallowed every few hours.

Minor Ailments—In addition to its use for Cold Troubles, Vicks has been found excellent as a salve, liniment or plaster for troubles such as: Dots, Burns, Itching, Soreness, Skinburn.

TO CONSIDER DAYLIGHT SAVING PLAN

Legislation in regard to the “More Daylight” movement, which is supported by more than 5,000 baseball fans, will probably come up for consideration before city council at its regular meeting tonight.

Petitions urging council to adopt the plan were presented at a former meeting but action was deferred in order to give opponents of the movement an opportunity to be heard, but up until this morning no papers in opposition had been filed with the clerk of council, although it has been indicated that petitions will be presented against the measure.

Several other important matters will be up before council for action tonight including considerable legislation previously ordered.

HAL HOYT'S "ALL AMERICAN GIRLS" IN "THE ISLE OF HAPPINESS"-IT'S A HIT

An Important Letter

CONNEAUT, OHIO.—I have the greatest faith in Dr. Pierce's remedies because they have always given me just the relief I needed in a short time and that relief was not temporary, but permanent. My first experience with these medicines was twenty years ago when I was suffering with inward trouble and doctoring gave me little or no help. Then my doctor ordered me to take local treatments which were decidedly objectionable to me. It was then that I wrote to Doctor Pierce's Invalids' Hotel for advice and took the medicines advised, which included the 'Favorite Prescription,' and it was only a short while before I was feeling better and eventually I was cured of my trouble for I never had a recurrence of woman's weakness. I have taken 'Favorite Prescription' since, whenever I have felt the need of a special tonic, and also the 'Pleasant Pellets' when in need of a laxative, and not once have I been disappointed in the results obtained. I certainly do recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines very highly because they are so dependable and satisfactory."—MRS. PHEBE FARLIN, 404 Washington St.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can now be had in tablet form as well as liquid at most drug stores. Send to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for a ten cent trial package of tablets.

Violinist Delights Appreciative Audience

A program of unique interest was given at the Second Presbyterian church last evening under the auspices of the New Century, Woman's Literary and Home League clubs, who presented Hala Gudenus of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, and Miss Fern Sherman, his accompanist. Mr. Gudenus is a violinist and composer who possesses great artistic technique with a profound musical spirit. The characteristic feature of his playing is pathos. He was received with much enthusiasm by a musical audience which fully appreciated his authoritative interpretation of the music of his country, Armenia. His first number was the "Concert Sonata" from Verdi, in which like playing was distinguished by depth of feeling and delicacy of execution. Miss Sherman then played a group of Armenian melodies, arranged for the piano by Howard Brockway. "Wolf and Lamb" is characteristic of the native folk music. The "Wedding March" represents the sadness of the bride as she leaves her father's house for the first time on her wedding day; and "Love-Lies" is of a humorous nature. Miss Anna Criner at the organ assisted Mr. Gudenus with the "Armenian Misericord," which is very old church music. In the "Love Song" and "Gallalay" was displayed intensity of feeling and richly colored tones. Miss Sherman then played "Prisoner," "Grieg's Shadow Dance," "McDowell," and "Eduard" (a major), now capturing the imaginations of their

HOWARD K. MOORE "WATCHED"

That Howard K. Moore, assistant to President Andrew Glass of the Whittaker Glass Co., is held in the highest possible esteem by his co-workers at the big office building in East Portsmouth was shown Tuesday when he was called before the heads of the various departments and presented with a solid gold Green watch, chain and Masonic charm. Mr. Moore was also the recipient of a gold silver cigarette case, the gift of the women employees of the office.

Mr. Moore left Wednesday, for Wheeling, W. Va., where he will make his future home and where he will act as assistant to President Glass whose headquarters have been permanently transferred to Wheeling. Mr. Moore was accompanied by his family.

The presentation speech was made by M. H. Longfellow and he touched upon the many good qualities of Mr. Moore who during the nine years he has been with the Whittaker Glass Co., he has worked his way up from under clerk to his present responsible and lucrative position. Mr. Longfellow took occasion to thank Mr. Moore for the uniform courtesy he has shown to the office employees during the years he has been connected with the big institution. He told him he had won his present spurs by loyalty to the interests of the company and to his indefatigable industry and close application to every duty that came before him. Mr. Moore was made to feel that the friendship of his fellow employees was genuine and 18 years pure.

Mr. Moore was taken completely by surprise. He has faced "big interests" in line with his duties and has always been able to uphold his end of any business argument. But there is no doubt about his embarrassment when he was surrounded yesterday by the heads of the departments, especially when he listened to the words of Mr. Longfellow. He came very near breaking down but soon recovered his composure and responded most fittingly to the kind words of Mr. Longfellow. He stated that he can never forget the with considerable reluctance, but that he would ever cherish the friendships that he had made here and would look back upon his Portsmouth residence as the happiest nine years of his life.

Outside of the steel plant Mr. Moore was well and favorably known to the people of Portsmouth. He numbered his friends by the hundreds, every one of whom, while sorry to see him leave the Pleasant City, will rejoice in learning of his well-earned promotion.

They know that he will make good his whole life shows that for he has risen from the ranks through merit and hard work.

Mr. Moore was especially active in local Masonic circles, being a 32nd degree Mason and actively identified with the various bodies. Until this year he was one of the life wires of the Masonic Bowling League and the members of the League join with the people of Portsmouth in wishing him all sorts of success in his new home.

Why More Small Cars Come Equipped With Goodyear Tires

Last year, more small cars, using 30 x 3, 30 x 3 1/2, or 31 x 4-inch tires, were factory-equipped with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

This is plainly a result of the high relative value produced in these small-car tires by Goodyear's enormous resources and scrupulous care.

They represent the same intense endeavor to supply utmost satisfaction in tires that has laid the basis for the marked preference which exists everywhere for Goodyear Tires in the larger sizes.

This real Goodyear value in tires is available for your Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell, or other small car, at our nearest Service Station. Go there for these tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes.

ments which it seems has made constructive legislative service under present auspices impossible.

"The prohibition amendment took out of the public revenues several millions of dollars. In addition to that, a constitutional stand is required that sinking fund and interest charges on bonds should not exceed each year during the life of the obligation. This has not been done in the past and as a result of the new policy, which introduces the element of sound financial costs, sums of indebtedness which should have been paid in the past must be paid now."

Terms of the Bill Failed

"The limit to the Smith Law which establishes the maximum tax rate which the tax rate must not be imposed on assessed property, had that origin in the desire to increase the percentage of property and to have real property, which cannot be divided free from a dispossessing estate, reduced to a minimum. That is the basis of the statute in question. In the case of the Smith Law, there was no need for the law to contain a clause to the effect of this re-cessing the tax rate to the assessed property."

Terms of the Bill Failed

"Two things in the interest of the general welfare should be emphasized in the public mind, namely, the impact of the Smith Law on the public revenues and least, will possess the form and effect to insure the public revenues and the combination of elements to meet all needs with other elements."

The Churches of Portsmouth will be Open for Prayer Tonight. There will be a Comfortable Seat for You

Prayer Meetings Are largely in the hands of the laymen—in fact prayer meetings are family gatherings where religious views and topics are freely discussed, and where the devout worshipper receives spiritual strength—and the more zeal one puts into the services the greater the benefit derived.

If the Lord, the Perfect One, found it imperative to pray, how necessary it is then that the people of today offer up their petitions to the heavenly throne of grace.

May Build Ice Piers

The government is making inquiries about the value of ice piers to the local harbor.

F. C. Fuller of the Portsmouth Sand & Gravel company has been authorized by the government to secure data relative to the need of piers here. He is busy estimating the damage river craft has suffered when ice gorges moved in the local harbors in the past four years.

The prize bidder on the Cincinnati team is Eddie Roush. The great outfielder, who received a salary of $10,000 last year, asks for an increase of $3,000 and to be granted the privilege of remaining at home next spring when the Reds go to Miami, Florida, to train. Roush is at his farm in Oklahoma City, Okla. He has received his $10,000 a year contract sent him a few days ago by President Herrmann and says he will not sign unless he gets the increase demanded.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 18—Rails supplemented yesterday's many substantial gains at the open of today's stock market trans-continental and grangers rising to 2 points. Shared of the roads covering eastern and southern territories averaged large fractional advances but coalers were reactionary. Oils improved but the movement otherwise was somewhat irregular.

Subsequent packers' buying reflected part of their advance within the first half hour, when pressure against industrials became more pronounced.

The early setback proved of short duration, industrials rallying easily when buying of rails resumed at original prices. For the first time in months transportation dominated the trading both as to activity and extent of their advance. Oils were next in favor and railway equipments followed the course set by rails. Losses of 1 to 3 points in General Motors, Cradle to Steel and affiliated issues were more than recovered and specialties also strengthened. Standards of foreign exchange and the six percent renewal rate for call loans comprised the other encouraging features.

Stimulated by a broader demand for railway issues, 100% stock market recorded further improvement, gains extending from 2 to 12 points. Sales approximated 900,000 shares.

The closing was strong.

ALLIES OBJECT TO REOPENING ADRIATIC QUESTION FOR WILSON

FIRST DECISION WILL BE CARRIED OUT, HOWEVER, "IF WILSON WILL INDICATE WAY"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The reply of the supreme allied council to President Wilson's note relative to the Adriatic settlement has been cabled and forwarded to Washington by the American embassy here. Announcement has been made that the question of making public the text of the reply will rest with Mr. Wilson.

It is understood the communication sent to the American capital objects to a reopening of the Adriatic question. It is said to declare that circumstances existing when Premiers Lloyd George, Nitti and Clemenceau framed the virtual ultimatum to Yugoslavia in January could not be ignored and the president, it is asserted, is told the decisions reached last December, to which Mr. Wilson adhered in his note, will be carried out if Mr. Wilson will indicate the way this may be done.

While reports emanating from Paris to the effect that the council modified and softened the note of the first draft of this reply to Mr. Wilson are denied, it is said the message handed to Ambassador John W. Davis, for transmission to Washington is not identical with the one agreed upon by Premiers Lloyd George and Millerand at their first meeting subsequent to the arrival of the American president's memorandum.

COX ALLOWS GARDNER TAX BILL TO BECOME A LAW; SCORES LEGISLATURE FOR FAILURE TO SOLVE TAXATION PROBLEM

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 18.—Governor Cox today permitted the Gardner tax bill, authorizing exemption of interest and sinking fund charges from the limitations of the Smith one percent law, when the voters approve such action, to become a law without his approval.

In a statement issued the governor described the act as "the short cut to the purse of home owners." He said it was "indefensible" and "ought to be vetoed, and the legislature summoned in special session."

In the consideration of this plan, however, the governor's statement continues, "we are reminded that the eighty-third general assembly has been in session intermittently for over a year, and, judging by what it has failed to do, I have not the slightest confidence that it would do anything in connection with present fiscal emergencies if it were again brought into session."

To have vetoed the measure with the assembly adjourned sine die might result in defalcation on the public debt in some municipalities, said the governor in explaining why he allowed it to become a law. He predicted that tax rates will mount so high as to be staggering, "but the compensation will certainly come in the form of an enlarged electorate which will give a vigilant eye to legislative personnel and performance in the future," he added.

SCORES LEGISLATURE

The governor scored the legislature for its failure to solve the taxation problem, charging the failure to "political partisanship."

"Evidently chairman and sub-chairmen, lesser and major and petty, not only mingled with members of the assembly in violation of the law," said the governor, "but on occasions with the president of the presiding officers of both houses."

"The prohibition amendment took place beside the seat of the presiding officers of both houses. In addition to that, a constitutional mandate required that sinking fund and interest charges, on bonds should be met each year during the life of the obligation. This has not been done in the past and as a result of the new policy, which isfarsighted and selfish, made agreement impossible—the Gardner bill is the product of that condition."

GOVERNOR'S STATEMENT

The governor's statement is as follows:

"House Bill No. 123, known as the Gardner act, is the ultimate, if not the almost exclusive, contribution of the present general assembly to the financial emergency which exists in the affairs of local subdivisions of government.

"The bill is not defensible, and yet if it were vetoed with the legislature adjourned sine die, there would be grave danger of defalcation on the public debt in some municipalities. It is the short cut to the purse of home owners in the state. Frankly, it ought to be vetoed, and the legislature summoned in special session. In the consideration of this plan, however, we are reminded that the eighty-third general assembly has been in session intermittently for over a year, and, judging by what it has failed to do, I have not the slightest confidence that it would do anything in connection with present fiscal emergencies if it were again brought into session."

To have vetoed the measure with the assembly adjourned sine die might result in defalcation on the public debt in some municipalities, said the governor in explaining why he allowed it to become a law. He predicted that tax rates will mount so high as to be staggering, "but the compensation will certainly come in the form of an enlarged electorate which will give a vigilant eye to legislative personnel and performance in the future," he added.

BRANCH BILL AN INJUSTICE

The governor scored the legislature for its failure to solve the taxation problem, charging the failure to "political partisanship."

"Two things in the interest of the general welfare should be emphasized in the public mind, namely, the injustice of the bill, which, for the time, at least, will possess the form and effect of law, and the combination of elements which it seems has made constantly in violation of the law," said the governor, "but on occasions with the president of the presiding officers of both houses."

"The prohibition amendment took place beside the seat of the presiding officers of both houses. In addition to that, a constitutional mandate required that sinking fund and interest charges, on bonds should be met each year during the life of the obligation. This has not been done in the past and as a result of the new policy, which isfarsighted and selfish, made agreement impossible—the Gardner bill is the product of that condition."

TERMS IT HAD FAITH

"The limitations in the Smith law, which established the maximum bond which a tax rate must not be imposed on assessed property, had their origin in the desire to increase the personal property duplicate and to hold real property, which cannot be hidden from a dispossessor, if not unjust burden. When the Smith law was passed, and valuation on real property was increased throughout the state, the statute in question became itself a bond or guaranty to the owners of realty. When the financial emergency appeared, there was no necessity for breaking the covenant given, and in the absence of this necessity the procedure adopted becomes a matter of plain bad faith."

"It would have been perfectly easy to increase the public revenues sufficiently to meet all needs with other methods of taxation, constitutionally authorized, had they been invoked, but they were not. And, after more than a year of controversy, the task of constructive work was abandoned and the course of least resistance was followed—the result being the passage of the Gardner bill, a simple short cut to those citizens who have evidenced their community thrift by building houses and manufacturing plants, or establishing some form of business where the evidence of value is in sight."

TAX RATES WILL BE STAGGERING

"Tax rates will mount so high as to be staggering, but the compensation will certainly come in the form of an enlarged electorate which will give a vigilant eye to legislative personnel and performance in the future," he added.

"The prohibition amendment took place beside the seat of the presiding officers of both houses. In addition to that, a constitutional mandate required that

Sale Of German Ships Held Up

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Consummation of the sale of 30 former German passenger steamers was held in abeyance today by the shipping board until Chairman Payne could confer with the senate committee on the future policy of the board as to these vessels, the bids received for them at the recent auction sale and the cost involved in reconditioning them for operation by the government.

Decision by the district supreme court on the application of William Randolph Hearst, of New York, as a taxpayer, for an injunction to stop the sale, is expected Friday.

President Wilson virtually has committed his reply, which it is understood will be a vigorous negative to Senator Brandegee's resolution inquiring whether there existed any secret agreement with Great Britain as to the ultimate disposal of seized German ships.

The end of the auction yesterday brought expressions of disappointment from shipping board members at the offers received.

TREATY SITUATION IN THE SENATE BECOMES BADLY MUDDLED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Progress is required to substitute one of these reservations for that drawn by the republicans, and another 15 votes would be needed to ensure final ratification.

In fact the situation apparently was so muddled that even the most ardent ratificationists seemed disheartened over the prospects of settlement, although others professed to see a way out of the wilderness of original sub-reservations. After another attempt to get republican support for modifying the reservation to Article 10, Minority Leader Hitchcock said it looked as though the opposing sides "might come out of the same hole" they went in.

The alternate reservations to Article 10, presented by Senator Hitchcock, is said to have pledged the support of 40 democrats, with the possibility of obtaining the vote of one or two more. A majority of 30

AGAIN THE DIFFERENCE

HAVING as they assumed, laid the proper foundation by prior concerted attacks upon the management and alleged mismanagement of the postoffice department by General Borleske, representatives of the larger dailies of the country appeared before a congressional committee, the other day, to urge the repeal of the zone postage system for publications.

Their contention was that the rates charged thereunder were excessive and ruinous and were the main cause of the demise of twenty-five hundred newspapers since the enactment of the system about two years ago.

They hadn't the hearing all their own way, by any means. Present in direct opposition to them were the officers of organizations of smaller papers and having a membership of over six thousand.

It is the eternal clash of selfishness against selfishness, an assumed loss of one class, through legislation, and assumed profit to the other through the same means. Both are in a false attitude as to right and fact. Not twenty-five hundred papers, not a single one has been killed by the zone system. If one were then it died because it was unfit to live. Neither is this system protecting the little paper against the larger. No such intent was written into the law which created it. That law was designed to make newspapers pay the government a more equitable consideration for the service it rendered them, a service which, prior thereto, they got for nothing. They are not now paying the worth of it and none has any right to complain of injustice practiced towards it. They are all like the Irishman, whose last want was justice.

DEPENDS ON WHOSE OX

ONE of our esteemed contemporaries contained an article, in an issue of a few days ago, in which it fairly shrieked in anguish that not only a "protective tariff," but actually a prohibitive tariff, was not levied against a certain mineralite, used to line the interior of furnaces, because if one or both were not done another infant industry would be smothered to death by importations from Sweden.

Its plea was pathetic, its spirit was agonized, but, and that is always the case, the shoe didn't touch it except in magnanimous sympathy and when it comes to putting it on the other foot the case was different. This paper has felt the pinch of a news print shortage along with the rest of us and has paid sky-high prices for what jags it can get now and then. Therefore and wherefore this same paper is in earnest and unqualified consonance in the bill of Senator Curtis of Kansas, by the way himself a Republican and a protectionist, to reduce the tariff on paper from this same Sweden down to a beggarly free trade 12 per cent, to the end that ship loads may be brought in. No concern here, no tears shed over the mythical ruin that is going to come to American industries, intact or otherwise.

PROBABLY MORE THAN EXPECTED

IT can't be said in absolute assurance what the Allies are going to do finally in the matter of those Germans charged with every war crime in the catalogue and some improvised to suit the times, but anyone aspiring to be a prophet could play fairly safe by saying nothing, or more expressively fizzle.

The Allies weren't on sure ground to start with and Germany has altogether outwitted them with the proposition to try the alleged culprits herself, why she astounds by claiming she has already tried some of them and slyly intimates that no government can tell that it has executed some of its citizens for crimes charged in extraordinary proceedings. Further than that Holland also intimates that while she can surrender Bill Hohepoller, the arch offender, but is willing to marion him safe on a remote and desolate isle, about one league from her shore and almost a half day's distance from Berlin.

Now, there isn't a likelihood of Germany having done what she intimates she has, nor of purpose to bring any of the malefactors to judgment, but her claim does supply such a just and generous pretext for the Allies to back away that they can scarce fail to accept it and thereby cover what might otherwise be their own confusion. As for Bill what a punishment it will be to banish him from any sort of pomp and circumstances and let him, in solitude, repeat long of his crimes.

Seems we have heard some remote claim that Huntington was a live, hurly-burly sort of a place. Rather strange in view of the fact that she has only this day caught up with the story rampant in every other town some months ago that federal agents were around making arrests for profiteering.

Gee, but the world is moving along at a dizzy pace. Everyone of the Jackson papers has bought a new type dress.

They Adulterate Everything Now-a-days

BILLY WHISKERS

by FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

Oh my! What a thrill the feast of red stuff that looked like paint had given Billy Whiskers. He did not know where to get a stick of red paint that the leading lady used to paint her lips. After tasting her powder, and upsetting her bottle of perfume, and chewing her blonde wig, thinking it some kind of yellow grass, he walked out without awakening her.

Next he went into a tent that had pictures of snakes of all kinds painted on it. This was the tent occupied by the snake charmers, but Billy knew nothing about large snakes, only little inoffensive water snakes, so he went in and commenced nosing around in the baskets he saw setting there with blankets in them to see what was under the blankets.

In the first one he felt something cold and slippery and not to his taste, so he let it alone, thinking it a piece of garden hose; but when he stuck his nose in the next basket something long and slim and pliable stuck his head out and wound itself around his body, drawing itself tighter and tighter, until Billy found himself staggering for want of breath. When he was nearly squeezed to death he made a deathlike groan which awoke the Indian snake charmer who was asleep in one corner of the tent on a pile of rags. The man took in the situation at a glance, and came to Billy's rescue, making the snake uncoil itself by playing on a kind of bagpipe, a queer, wild, mournful piece of music. This charmed the snake and, uncoiled itself, crawled toward the snake charmer.

The second that Billy felt its coils slip from his body he took a long breath and ran from the tent, not even stopping to wiggle his head in thanks for his preservation. Once outside, he made his way back to his own tent, where he lay down on his pile of straw to snatch a little sleep before daylight, as unconcerned as if nothing had happened.

(The snake-charmer was found out, though, as you'll hear tomorrow.)

These sir, are race cups, to be awarded as prizes," replied the jeweler.

"Well, if that's the case," said the stranger, taking the largest in one of his hands, "suppose you race me for this one?"

He started off with the jeweler after him, but the stranger won the cup.

Experienced Teacher

Johnson had been dining out with some friends. When he left to go home he found himself in a very thick fog. Stumbling along a narrow path, he found himself descending a flight of steps. He felt sure was not right, and, hearing footsteps descending, he paused.

"Parton he," he said to the dim figure which presently loomed through the fog, "but can you tell me where I am going to?"

"Certainly, sir," replied the stranger, politely. "If you go straight on, you will walk into the river. I have just come out."

Say what you please about th' girls but we don't believe we ever seen one belted mannikin, face unshaved, an' shined all at once. "Tree molasses! It soon be ripe," said Uncle Niles Turner, day.

Howard K. Moore "Watched"

Howard K. Moore, assistant to President Andrew Glass of the Whittaker Glass Co., is held in the highest possible esteem by his co-workers at the big office building in East Portsmouth. He was shown Tuesday when he was called before the heads of the various departments and presented with a solid gold Green watch; chain and Masonic emblem. Mr. Moore was also the recipient of a solid silver cigarette case, the gift of the women employees of the office.

Mr. Moore left Wednesday for Wheeling, W. Va., where he will make his future home and where he will act as assistant to President Glass, whose headquarters have been permanently transferred to Wheeling. Mr. Moore was accompanied by his family.

The presentation speech was made by M. H. Longfellow and he touched upon the many good qualities of Mr. Moore who during the nine years he has been with the Whittaker Glass Co. he has worked his way up from order clerk to his present responsible and lucrative position. Mr. Longfellow took occasion to thank Mr. Moore for the uniform courtesy he has shown to the office employees during the years he has been connected with the big institution. He told him he had won his present status by loyalty to the interests of the company and to his indefatigable industry and close application to every duty that came before him. Mr. Moore was made to feel that the friendship of his fellow employees was genuine and 18 karat pure.

Mr. Moore was taken completely by surprise. He has faced "big interests" in line with his duties and has always been able to uphold his "end" of any business agreement. But there is no doubt about his embarrassment when he was surrounded yesterday by the heads of the departments, especially when he listened to the words of Mr. Longfellow. He came very near breaking down, but soon recovered his composure and responded most fittingly to the kind words of Mr. Longfellow. He stated that he was revering local ties with considerable reluctance, but that he would ever cherish the friendships that he had made here and would look back upon his Portsmouth residence as the happiest nine years of his life.

Outside of the steel plant Mr. Moore was well and favorably known to the people of Portsmouth. He numbered his friends by the hundreds, every one of whom, while sorry to see him leave the Peerless City, will rejoice in learning of his well earned promotion. They know that he will make good—his whole life shows that for he has risen from the ranks through merit and hard work.

Mr. Moore was especially active in local Masonic circles, being a most sincere Mason and actively identified with the various bodies. Until this year he was one of the big wires of the Masonic Bowling League and the members of the league join with the people of Portsmouth in wishing him all sorts of success in his new home.

Women Guard Siam Palace. Women police, an Amazon guard, for the most part old and unattractive, have long been an institution in Siam. As gatekeepers of the Woman's palace in Bangkok, they are assigned to a special station. One of their duties is to follow any visitor who visits the palace and remains with him or her until their departure. They see that no mischief is done, and that no one annoys the ladies of the court. The women police are dressed in a distinctive uniform but are not armed.

THIS WINDOW IS DOOR TO HAVANA

This window when it is in the Havana Foundling Asylum and Maternity Hospital has meant "home" for thousands of Havana babies. Inside the window is a revolving drum with one side open. When a mother is no longer able to care for her child she places it in this drum. The weight of the baby revolves the drum, closing the opening and ringing a bell. This signals a sister who takes the child while the mother may go un-identified. The child may later be obtained upon proof of parentage.

This asylum and hospital was founded in 1792 by Governor Luis de las Casas and was remodeled in 1890 when Leonard Wood was governor of Cuba. Thousands of babies have been cared for in this institution, of which the present superintendant was himself a foundling brought up without its walls.

The Chillicothe News-Advertiser before another day should have known he would be summoned before his Master.

Ella Francis Burley, 104 Ewing street, B. & O. conductor, who observed and celebrated his thirty-ninth birthday Tuesday, little thought that he would ever cherish the friendships that he had made here and would look back upon his Portsmouth residence as the happiest nine years of his life.

NAME OF JAPAN.
By Mario Polo, the empire of Japan is named Zinpan; and by the Chinese, Gipanque; or, "The empire from the Sun." Tonka is another name by which the empire is recognized, which signifies "The underworld realm." KELLEY HAS ESTABLISHED TOBACCO RECORD

The following from the Central Record of Lancaster, Garrard County, Ky., is of interest here: Webb Kelley is a cousin of T. L. Wall of 1821 Grantview avenue.

Webb Kelley of this county, and universally known by his famous "Kelley Tobacco Seal" has made a record this year with five acres of tobacco, that competitors may take a shot at for several years to come.

From five acres of measured ground Mr. Kelley sold $5,678.17 worth of tobacco over the break of the Garrard Tobacco Warehouse at an average close to the dollar mark. But this is not all, for from this same piece of ground and same tobacco he gathered his celebrated seal, amounting to 4,600 pieces which he has sold and delivered and for which he received $8,000, making a total of $13,678.17, from five acres of land.

Mr. Kelley is still doing a great work and a visit to the office in Room 11, First National Bank building, will easily convince one that the Greatest Mother of All is still at her work, reaching out here and there, all over the city and county, lending a helping hand where most needed. Use of Plant Foods

When the pots in which are house plants becomes full of roots and soil worn out, or exhausted, a little fertilizer can be given them. The soil should be moist, not dry or very wet, when fertilizer is applied. There are good plant foods sold at large seed stores, of which sufficient can be had for small price to do for a good sized collection of plants for the whole winter. Or a fertilizer can be made by dissolving half an ounce of nitrate of soda in a gallon of water.

About half a teaspoonful of this fertilizer every two weeks for a plant in a six-inch pot will be sufficient. Roots and stems must not be given too much fertilizer. Geraniums will bear a larger quantity.
